- New inserts - in your child's folder, you will find some new papers in the brads (thanks Mrs. Sholars)! I hope they were useful over the break. Continue to use these as games or quick quizzes for your child.
- We've been having some issues with students using curse words, not keeping their bodies to themselves, and making other students feel uncomfortable. They are happening within a small group of students, however it'd be very helpful if you speak with your coconuts about respecting others' space and not doing things they know they don't want to get caught doing. Although I've been able to address these situations and have blanket conversations with the whole class, your continual support is greatly appreciated. I also don't mind having parents come up and monitor if you feel the need.
- Keep reading with your coconuts and asking them questions about their reading. Question suggestions are in the packets we gave you during our fall conference and in the inserts in your child's daily folder. Thanks for all that you do!

Math

We are learning how about double facts!

Reading & Writing

We are learning about fantasy stories, and learning how to write stories with a plot and characters!

Science

Exploring soil and rocks!
